Put your X under the Hatchet and vote for M. B. Strode for City Clerk.

The contents between the owners of the Shoe Factory and the Hamburgs have been settled satisfactorily, and there is a prospect that the Factory will remain in operation before a great while. Some seven centuries ago, just about the first candle light, some fellow or fellow, we know, who had neither the fear of the Devil nor the Devil nor a Bulldog in view, stripped nearly all the feminine weariness of the line off Mr. George F. Brown's laurels and lay the line in the First Ward.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Mr. David Wilson Januarius and Miss Margaret Steele Andrews, to occur at the Presbyterian Church, Flemington, Newburg, Wednesday, November 10th. The groom is a son of Mrs. Louis Januarius of this city and brother of Deputy County Clerk Andrew M. January. The bride is a most estimable young lady, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Steele Dudley.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lyran Center, is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, and he has to recommend Johnson Bros. of that place; and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these choose from, and skilled physicians tried to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and fames the country over for his cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says that he has never sold a bottle of this fine remedy, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by J.

VOTE FOR IT!

Let the Constitution Be Amended on the Lines of Home Rule for Cities.

WHAT IS PROPOSED TO BE DONE

In response to an inquiry, one of the most prominent political economists of Kentucky has written a letter on the subject of the proposed Constitutional amendment, which letter THE LEADER is pleased to lay before its readers, and to urge the importance of every citizen casting his vote in favor of the measure.

The letter is as follows:

I am in receipt of your favor of the 35th inst., asking an expression of opinion from me upon the amendment to the Constitution of the state to be voted on at the election next Tuesday.

The question as to whether or not the amendment ought to be adopted may be fairly put as follows, to wit:

Shall the inhibition of the existing Constitution of the state, which prevents the cities and towns in Kentucky from raising revenue for local purposes by taxes on income, or franchises, or by license, in lieu of ad valorem taxes on personal property, be removed so that the Legislature may, by general laws, if it sees fit, empower our cities and towns to raise part of their revenue for municipal purposes by taxation based on income, licenses or franchises, in lieu of ad valorem taxes on personal property?

It will be seen from the above statement—

First—That the question of taxation of property for state and county purposes is not affected by the amendment, which, if adopted, will leave the Constitutional provisions applicable to state and county taxes still in force, which now requires all personal property, no matter whether located in cities, towns or country, to be assessed at the same rate, and to pay the same taxes as real estate.

Second—That in case the amendment is adopted the cities and towns will not be free from the restrictions now imposed upon them, and from which they are seeking relief by the amendment, until the Legislature shall enact a law, general in its provisions, conferring on all cities and towns of the same class like powers to levy and collect income, license and franchise taxes, in lieu of ad valorem taxes on personal property, for municipal purposes only.

Third—The amendment, if adopted, cannot be made effective to exempt any kind of personal property from ad valorem municipal taxation without imposing at the same time a municipal tax upon such personal property so exempted, in the form of license or franchise tax.

PATRICK LANTRY.

Franklin Lexington, Nov. 1.—Patrick Lantry, aged 65 years, died at his home in West Covington, surrounded by his family, Sunday evening. He had been out during the day at a neighbor's house, and returned to his home, at John street, about five o'clock in the afternoon. He was taken ill, and died at six o'clock the next morning, at his home, at John street, at the residence of his wife, his son John and daughter Lizzie, not down at the table.

Mr. Lantry was in exceptionally good spirits and chatted with his family during the meal. Toward the close of the meal he suddenly complained of a choking sensation, and then fell unconscious from his chair. Members of the family endeavored to restore him, and Dr. Crigler, of Ludlow, was summoned, but before he arrived Lantry died.

His family were of the opinion that he had swallowed a peach stone, but Dr. Crigler said his death was due to heart disease. He leaves a wife, Emma, and two daughters. Mr. Lantry was one of West Covington's most respected citizens, and he had been a resident of the town for over 40 years. He had served six consecutive terms as town councilman and two consecutive terms as town clerk.

SHEAM OF WATER

Flows Continually From a Tree Near Lancaster, Ky.—The supposed origin of the phenomenon on the farm of T. Smith, two miles from the city on the Lancaster pike. On cutting down a large elm tree they were surprised to see a stream of water gush out of the stump and fall in sparkling spray like water from a fountain. This was two weeks ago and there has been no cessation in the flow. The proposition is that there is a spring beneath the tree, to which tree worms, during the drought made an artificial channel and when the tree was cut down the water found a way to escape. Both gentlemen are men of veracity and will vouch for the truth of the story.

WHILE DYING

Farmer Miller Said, Marshal Stevens Shot Him. MIDWAY, Ky., Nov. 1.—James W. Miller, a farmer and trader, who resided a short distance from Midway, in this county, was shot and killed Saturday night by Marshal Ed Stevens. The officer attempted to arrest him and one or two other men, when they resisted, and the officer opened fire. Miller was hit twice, once in the right breast and once in the left hip. He lived for 415 o'clock Sunday morning. Miller leaves a wife and six children. He was somewhat nervous before death and said he had been shot without cause. Deceased was a highly respected citizen.

Investigation on Government Boat. LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 1.—The war department has opened an investigation on board the government boat General McIntosh, now anchored in the Ohio river near this city. The charge is that gambling has been indulged in late on the craft. Lieut. King, recently transferred from the office of the United States engineer at Cincinnati, is conducting the examination. Several days ago a pilot on the boat was discharged, and in order to pay up old scores he wrote to the secretary of war, informing him that gambling was going on aboard the McIntosh, and an official order for a naval trial followed.

Horse Stealing in East. LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 1.—Marshall Edgar Park, with a posse of men, has returned from Happy Top, this county, having in charge Ed Wootley, charged with being accessory to horsestealing, a species of crime very prevalent in this vicinity. The principal in the case is supposed to be in Winchester endeavoring to dispose of the stolen mare.

A Boy's Sudden Death. HORNSTOWN, Ky., Nov. 1.—A 10-year-old son of J. W. Wright, of Trenton, Ky., died very suddenly of congestion. He had been attending school and, on returning home, complained of feeling badly and retired early. Shortly afterward he was attacked with hemorrhage of the bladder and expired in a few moments.

Trotting Board of Appeals. LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 1.—It is announced that the next regular meeting of the board of appeals of the American Trotting association will be held in the Victoria hotel, Chicago, Tuesday, December 7, at 10 o'clock. All new applicants and written evidence must be filed with Secretary Stedden at Chicago by November 20.

Isaac Smith Pardoned. FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 1.—Gov. Bradley pardoned Isaac Smith, who was sent from Bath county for burglary, and who had but a few more days to serve. The reasons given for the pardon were that Smith had made an exceptionally good prisoner, and that his conduct would be made an example for others.

Gas Well Driller Nearly Hurt. CATTLEMATE, Ky., Nov. 1.—William Thompson, a gas well driller, was hit in the breast by a stick and knocked against the fly wheel, breaking four ribs and breast bone. It is thought he is internally injured also.

SEAL QUESTION.

Important Stage in the Conference Has Been Reached.

Proposition Providing for Limitation of Entire Suspension of Sealing.

The Agreement Said to Be Acceptable to the United States and Russia—The Establishment of New Weather Stations in Important Centers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—In reliable quarters it is stated that the conference between Russia, Japan and the United States now proceeding here in reference to sealing in the Behring sea and the North Pacific, has advanced to an important stage, and that a proposition has been reduced to writing, which, if accepted, will bring about a complete change in the sealing question. The proposition is said to be acceptable to the United States. It is understood to be acceptable similarly to the Russian delegates now here, but in view of the restrictions placed upon them by their credentials, it has been thought desirable to cable to St. Petersburg for final instructions. The Japanese delegates are understood to have felt at first that the proposition would not be in their interest, but on fuller conference Mr. Fujita determined to cable the substance of the proposition to his government, accompanying it with a proposition for the acceptance of a Little deal is entertained that Russia will accept the proposition, and in view of Mr. Fujita's recommendation it is believed that Japan also will join in it. The greatest secrecy is preserved in all official quarters as to the nature of the proposition, and it is not officially admitted that any proposition has been made. From equal reliable sources it is understood that the proposition has a far-reaching scope, and provides for the material limitation or entire suspension of pelagic sealing, or sealing on the high seas. Such a decisive step, if agreed to by Russia, Japan and the United States would, it is understood, not involve any concerted move to menace the claims of Great Britain and Canada to the right of pelagic sealing on the high seas, but would rather be a proposition expressive of the conclusions of the three most interested powers that, in the interests of humanity and the preservation of the seal herds of their respective governments, all nations including Great Britain and her colony, Canada, should unite with Russia, the United States and Japan in such effective prevention of pelagic sealing on the high seas as will put an end to it and thereby secure the preservation of the seals.

Chief Moore of the United States weather bureau, in his annual report to Secretary Wilson, calls for an appropriation of $100,000 for the next fiscal year and says this will admit of the establishment and equipment of new stations in important centers of population. Establishment of stations in the southwestern part of the country, embracing Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and southern California, where storms frequently originate, is urged. An investigation has been made as to the influence of climate, season and weather on sunstroke and the conclusion reached that sunstroke becomes imminent during the summer months when the mean temperature of any one day, or of several successive days, equals or nearly equals the normal maximum temperature for the period. Twenty experimental kite-flying stations are contemplated this year, and the results in the great value of the ultimate result is expressed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—It is possible as a result of the change made in the leadership of the Marine band, the engagement of that organization to furnish music for the Chicago horse show may fail. The contracts for this engagement, it is said, were made by Prof. Pasculli, the retiring leader. He arranged the programme in cooperation with the officers of the Chicago show, and this programme, which has already been published, includes several numbers of Prof. Pasculli's own compositions. It is now said to be doubtful whether the Chicago people will be content with the change in the personnel of the band which the department's action has brought about. In order to escape further criticism at the hands of the labor organizations the navy department has laid down the rule that hereafter the Marine band shall not be allowed to play in any city where they might be regarded as competing with civilian bands. All of the bandmen have been enlisted with an understanding that they might see out their slender pay as enlisted marines by playing outside engagements. Most of them are from the family of the band, and the navy department is not prepared to subsidize a "marine" pay, so that this order is expected to result in the refusal of most of the bandmen to re-enlist, and in the case of the more noted musicians, in their buying their discharge, so that the future of the famous old Marine band is in doubt.

Infamous Father Expects to Hang. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 29.—William Carr, the infamously famous father who confessed to having drowned his child, confessed to having had too many, is the center of a throng of morbid people at the police station. Carr says nothing of his murdered child, save to uphold her for "having brought him to the world" and appears troubled only about himself. Now he seems more serious and notwithstanding there is a desire at liberty to lynch him, he begged the officers to let the Clay county people take him back. "I know I'll have to hang," he said, "but the quicker I'll have to the better."

No Yellow Fever at Mazatlan. SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 29.—A. V. Lom, Mexican consul at this place, received a telegram from Gov. Sanchez at Mazatlan, denying positively that there is any yellow fever at Mazatlan.
